

Are you in the process of writing your doctoral thesis or working on a paper, in English? If so, the course 'Writing Effectively in English' will give you many resources and practical information.

The course of the Science Writing Lab offers a review of common style and grammar errors before you set out to write short excerpts of introduction, results and discussion sections.

The Science Writing Lab has been honored by the HRK (Hochschulrektorenkonferenz) as an example of Good-Practice.
